

James A. Levernier is professor of English at the University of Arkansas at Little Rock, where he teaches American literature and multicultural studies. His book-length publications include THE INDIAN CAPTIVITY NARRATIVE (with Zabelle Stodola), THE INDIANS AND THEIR CAPTIVES (with Hennig Cohen), AMERICAN WRITERS BEFORE 1800 (with Douglas Wilmes), and STRUCTURING PARAGRAPHS AND ESSAYS: A GUIDE TO EFFECTIVE WRITING (with Frank Parks and Ida Hollowell). He has also published numerous essays and articles on American literature.