

Lancaster University Alumni & Development

Alumni Group Co-ordinator

Introduction

At Lancaster University we have over 148,000 alumni in more than 180 countries.

Our Global Alumni Network is a fantastic way of staying in touch, or reconnecting, with fellow graduates around the world.

Becoming an Alumni Group Co-ordinator allows you to bring Lancaster alumni together through regular events or gatherings, and helps you maintain a connection to Lancaster University.

This pack can be used as a toolkit for becoming an Alumni Group Co-ordinator and running group activities.

We are on hand to support you in organising any events and activity, including forwarding invitations to alumni in your area, providing you with materials to use at events and information on alumni in your region, and where possible arranging for University staff to attend some of your events.

Thank you for all of your valuable work and we hope you enjoy the role!

Role of an Alumni Group Co-ordinator

By becoming an Alumni Group Co-ordinator you will be involved in:

- Organising social events and activities for alumni in the region.
- Providing opportunities for professional networking and for alumni to share their experience and expertise.
- Helping the University maintain strong links with alumni in the region.
- Helping to promote Lancaster University and what we do on a local and regional level.
- Providing links between prospective, current and past students.
- Acting as a point of contact in the region for enquiries from alumni and students (e.g. for advice on moving to the area or what it's like to study in Lancaster).
- Assisting University staff when they visit the region (e.g. to attend Recruitment Fairs).

We ask all Alumni Group Co-ordinator's to arrange at least one event per year as a minimum.

You are now part of a community of alumni co-ordinators across the world. We are always looking to develop our Global Alumni Network; let us know about your experiences - what works, what doesn't and how we can help.

How to Run Your Event

Type of Events

Social and Professional Networking

Informal social and professional networking events are a great way to get to know fellow graduates. Alumni new to your area can also have the chance to connect with a local, friendly network! Bars, pubs or restaurants are generally good venues to use for these events.

Alumni Meeting New Students

You may wish to invite students who have got a place at Lancaster to an event. They will really benefit from hearing about your own experiences prior to departing! If you would like to do some recruitment yourself, please let us know.

Connecting with Students and New Grads

“Welcome back” events for students who are returning home at the end of the study year (usually around June time) are brilliant for growing your local alumni network. We can also help you with these events by sending out an initial email to students who may be interested in attending.

Connect LU with Prospective Students

We may have staff visiting your area, attending recruitment fairs or events. Alumni Co-ordinators can support these events. This is very beneficial for prospective students - they can hear first-hand what it's really like to come to Lancaster!

Also to Think About

Date and Time

Set the date with sufficient time to promote (six weeks' notice for the alumni team). Consider any potential clashes with popular national, religious or sporting events, school holidays, or a particular day of the week – things that may affect attendance.

Venue

Think of a venue that is easily accessible and meets the needs of your event; for example if you've organised a careers advice session you may want a quieter venue. Where possible try to secure the venue free of charge.

Costs

We encourage you to secure a venue for free (bars and restaurants and cafes will often do this). We sometimes have budget that can be used towards food, however this is strictly subject to prior approval and so must be agreed in advance with the Alumni office, as it is subject to whether our budgets allow.

Attendees

The event should be open to all alumni from LU who are interested. Based on previously organised alumni group events, the number of attendees at reunions tends to average at between 5-10 people. However, this is dependent on a number of factors, such as location, date and the type of event you run.

Event Checklist

We can support you in promoting your event. Let us know six weeks in advance to allow sufficient time to do this.

Once you have let us know about your event, we can arrange for an email to be sent out to alumni in the area, as well as promoting the event on Facebook and LinkedIn.

Where applicable the team will also arrange for reimbursement of any agreed expenditure for the event.

Those invited will be asked to RSVP to you directly and to let you have their contact details, should you need to contact them for any reason.

Please remember to email Kirstine in the Alumni team to let her know the following information at least three days before the event:

- Event Attendance form
- Event Details form

You can use our Event Checklist to help with the organising of your event.

At and After the Event

At the Event

Make sure you know who attended the event by using the Event Attendance Form.

Please also ask every attendee to complete the Alumni Contact Details Form, to make sure we have their correct details and consent to contact, so they receive appropriate invitations and information.

You can also consider on the day:

- Taking pictures - for social media and for promoting future events.
- Promoting volunteering or giving - ask those interested to email the Alumni & Development Team or visit our Giving Pages.
- Feedback - find out from the attendees what kind of activity they would like to see in the future.

After the Event

Please email Kirstine with all completed forms and any photos from the event. Also, if you would like to write a short piece on the event, we can share it on the Alumni website as part of our Alumni Features!

Frequently Asked Questions

Can the university provide financial help?

We sometimes have budget that can be used towards food, however this is strictly subject to prior approval and so must be agreed in advance with the Alumni Office, as it is subject to if our budgets allow.

What should I (as co-ordinator) do if I receive updated contact information for alumni members?

It is very important that the university have up-to-date details for our alumni. Please ask them to complete the Alumni Contact Details form and send it back to Kirstine Bond in the Alumni department.

How much spare time do I require to take on this role?

All alumni groups are different. Many activities and events can be organised in a relatively small timescale, and as long as the organisers inform the university in advance we can support you as best we can. You can also ask other members of the group to play different roles in organising events and activities, to distribute the workload – often people are happy to help out.

How do I revive an existing alumni group?

Contact the Alumni department and we can help you make contact with old members or new alumni in the area.

What should I do if there aren't many alumni in my area?

The type of events you choose to organise is at your discretion. Numbers at events vary significantly regardless, but small and intimate events can prove extremely useful or fun! If you want some ideas, get in touch with the Alumni department.

I want to Volunteer!

Our co-ordinators are expected to abide by a code of conduct and data protection, as ambassadors of Lancaster University.

Code of Conduct

While engaged in any official activity related to Lancaster University, LU Alumni Group Co-ordinators are expected to maintain a high standard ethical behaviour and professional personal conduct. Co-ordinators should not organise Alumni activity without informing the Alumni Department at Lancaster University; they should ensure that they do not make any personal profit from this voluntary role. Co-ordinators should also make sure they do not store any alumni personal information (this is information that could directly or indirectly identify a person).

Data Protection Policy

Subject to suitable security checks, the University provides access to alumni information to relevant government departments including HESA and its agencies. This is for the purpose of compiling graduate destination and outcomes data. The legal basis for sharing the data in this way is as a legal obligation.

Information such as a list of people who were members of clubs and societies of the University will be shared with the Lancaster University Student Union on request. This is in order that the Union can arrange events and other activities such as reunions and anniversaries. The legal basis for sharing the data in this way is a legitimate interest.

With the exception of the access provided to government departments outlined above, we will not disclose your data to individuals, organisations or other entities outside the University other than those which are acting as agents for the University (for example, the company which prints and sends our annual alumni magazine). All external entities with whom data is being shared must sign a contract or confidentiality and non-disclosure agreement before any data transfer takes place. We do not sell to or trade your data with any other organisations.

The University will ensure that these organisations use your data in line with data protection legislation. In many cases the University does not need to seek your consent to share this information, in particular when there is a legal or statutory obligation to provide the information.
