<td>Full Year Students (October – June) will participate in coursework and examinations in the same way as home students. In Year 1 (ENGL 100) this will involve 4 pieces of coursework each worth 12.5% and one two-question exam worth 50%. In Years 2 and 3, you will be asked to complete one or two pieces of coursework; these will take the form of essays, in-class tests or take-home papers or group presentations. Most courses have an exam, in which you will be asked to answer two questions in 2.5 hours (200-level courses) or 3 hours (300-level courses). Some courses, notably ENGL 201, are assessed using a project in lieu of the exam. Your mark will be calculated in the same way as home students, and on the basis of 40% coursework and 60% exam.</td>

Creative Writing Courses:

Erasmus students are not normally admitted onto Part II Creative Writing courses, but may study CREW 103 with the agreement of the Study Abroad Tutor. Creative Writing courses are assessed by coursework only, and involve a portfolio of creative work which has been discussed at workshops during the year, and a critical element.

Note: We do not usually admit Erasmus students for part year registration.

Changing courses or tutors: You can only make seminar group or course changes with the permission of the Part II Office and all students must inform me of any changes they wish to make. In the case of course changes you must also inform the International Office (who will supply a drop/add form).
