Lancaster Global Travel Award

The Lancaster Global Travel Awards are available to undergraduate UK & EU students who we believe would be excluded on the basis of cost alone. These awards are given out on a first-come, first-served basis once a student has applied for one of our vacation programmes, and can differ in amount depending on the situation a student is in. The funding we receive is dictated by the University Access Agreement and primarily, our Awards are granted through means-testing based on your household income. There is also a number of other criteria for targeting students most in need that we will take into account when offering this funding to students:

a) They have a disability that potentially limits their options for university
b) They are in care or a care leaver
c) Their parents have not been to university
d) They are a young carer or parent or are estranged from their family

When applying you will be given the opportunity to confirm that you are in need of financial assistance, let us know your household income and whether the criteria above is relevant to you.

Santander Universities Flight Award

This funding is supplied by Santander Universities and is available to all students at Lancaster University. This is based on the same criteria as the Lancaster Global Travel Award and is assessed through a personal statement.

When will I receive my award?

Once you have formally applied to be part of the programme, your funding application will be accessed and, if successful, the amount of money awarded will be deducted from the overall price of the trip and communicated to you via email, with a link to pay the remainder of your trip.

College Travel Award

Your college may also be able to offer financial assistance. Please contact your College Manager for more information.

Please note: Students are eligible for our funding once during their time here at Lancaster University to ensure that priority is given to students who haven’t travelled abroad with us before.
