Where an employee has been dismissed that employee may appeal against the dismissal.

20.5 The Vice-Chancellor, or nominated person or persons, may suspend from duty, with or without pay, any employee for alleged misconduct or for other good or urgent reason(s) or to enable an appropriate investigation into alleged misconduct or other good or urgent reason(s).

(2) “dismissal by reason of redundancy” shall have the same meaning as in section 139 of the Employment Rights Act 1996 (as may be amended from time to time).

20.7 The power to dismiss any employee by reasons of redundancy, and the procedures prescribed in relation to such power, under this Statute shall not apply to those staff defined in sub-sections (3) to (6) of section 204 of the Education Reform Act 1988 (that is staff appointed prior to, and not promoted after, 20 November 1987), who shall for this purpose continue to be subject to such powers, if any, as applied to them prior to the introduction of the Statute made by the University Commissioners in the exercise of their powers under sections 203 and 204 of the Education Reform Act 1988.

Ordinance 7:
Student Appeals and Complaints

7.1 The Senate shall ensure that the University has in place appropriate procedures for student appeals and complaints.

7.2 The Academic Appeals procedures shall abide by the following principles.

7.2.1 The University, through its academic staff and assessment mechanisms, ensures that proper academic judgement is used in all assessment and moderation. Academic judgement thus stands outside of these procedures and cannot be subject to appeal.

7.2.2 Students will not be hindered in making a reasonable appeal. All parties will act without bias or prejudice and in a sensitive, fair and prompt manner.

7.2.3 The objective of the procedure is to establish the facts and come to a reasonable and just resolution, which is both relevant and proportionate.

7.2.4 No students will be disadvantaged for making appeals in good faith, and all reasonable appeals will be taken seriously and dealt with according to the agreed procedures. However, if it is established that appeals are frivolous or spurious, then they will not be considered reasonable, and the University may take disciplinary action.

7.2.5 The University will deal with all appeals confidentially so far as it is able, and expects all parties involved to honour this approach.

7.2.6 All reasonable measures will be taken to ensure that no student is disadvantaged within these processes due to location, requirements associated with protected characteristics, etc. Technology will be used, as appropriate, to facilitate these procedures.

7.3 The complaints procedure shall abide by the following principles.

7.3.1 Students will not be hindered in making a reasonable complaint. All parties will act without bias or prejudice and in a sensitive, fair and prompt manner.

7.3.2 The objective of the procedure is to establish the facts and come to a reasonable and just resolution, which is both relevant and proportionate.
7.3.3 No students will be disadvantaged for making complaints in good faith, and all reasonable complaints will be taken seriously and dealt with according to the agreed procedures. However, if it is established that complaints are frivolous or spurious, then they will not be considered reasonable, and the University may take disciplinary action.

7.3.4 The University will deal with all complaints confidentially so far as it is able, and expects all parties involved to honour this approach.

7.3.5 Members of staff who receive anonymous complaints will not investigate such complaints unless there is compelling evidence of a valid case and good reason why the students in the case would need to protect their anonymity.

7.3.6 All reasonable measures will be taken to ensure that no student is disadvantaged within these processes due to location, requirements associated with protected characteristics, etc. Technology will be used, as appropriate, to facilitate these procedures.

7.4 This Ordinance replaces one approved by Council in 2002. It was approved by Council 20 November 2015, with the concurrent of Senate on 4 November 2015, and took effect immediately.

Ordinance 8:

Raising Serious Concerns at Work

8.1 The Council shall ensure that there are clear procedures which ensure that members of the University feel able to raise issues of very real and significant concern.

8.2 The scope of the procedures will deal with concerns of malpractice raised in relation to specific issues of public interest.

8.3 The Public Interest Disclosure Act 1998 and the Enterprise and Regulatory Reform Act 2013 protect employees who notify the University of malpractice which they reasonably believe involves an issue of public interest from being subjected to any detriment or being unfairly dismissed as a result.

Public interest matters are defined as:

- commission of a criminal offence;
- failure to observe a legal obligation;
- miscarriage of justice (in the context of the criminal justice system);
- endangering health or safety or the environment;
- financial, academic or professional malpractice;
- suppression or concealment of any kind of information related to any of the above.

8.4 The following principles shall apply to the procedures.

8.4.1 All members of the University should feel able to raise concerns at work on the understanding that there is nothing to fear. The University undertakes to protect those who come forward from any reprisals or victimisation. This also applies if the concerns are raised and, after investigation, it turns out that the matter has a genuine and innocent explanation.

8.4.2 However, if the University discovers that this reporting process has been abused and that allegations have been raised maliciously or frivolously, it may treat this as a disciplinary matter.
8.4.3 When a problem is identified, the University will ensure that it is viewed with the seriousness it deserves and it will be dealt with promptly and appropriately. The University will pursue fraud, abuse, breaches of the law, breaches of University procedures and rules vigorously through its disciplinary procedures and/or it necessary through the courts and tribunals.

8.4.4 Investigations will be conducted as speedily as possible, having regard to the nature and complexity of the concern raised. The conclusion of the investigation will be communicated to the person(s) against whom the concern was raised and to the person who raised the concern.

8.5 This Ordinance replaces one approved by Council on 22 November 2002. It was approved by Council on 20 November 2015, with the concurrence of Senate on 4 November 2015, and took effect immediately.

10.7 This Ordinance was approved by Council on 8 December 2006, with the concurrence of Senate at its meeting on 22 November 2006, and took effect immediately. It was amended by Council on 20 November 2015, with the concurrence of Senate on 4 November 2015, and took effect immediately. Conduct of Student Disciplinary Hearings

In accordance with the decision of Senate that the Conduct of Disciplinary Hearings in relation to the Rules of the University should be contained in an Ordinance, the Council hereby ordains as follows.

11.1 Procedure at a Summary Hearing held by the University or College Dean

11.1.1 The student should be notified by the investigator of an allegation that he or she has broken a particular part of the Rules of the University or a College Rule.

11.1.2 The hearing is irrespective of whether the student admits the substance of the alleged breach of discipline made against him or her.

11.1.3 The student will be permitted to see any documentary evidence relied upon by the investigator.

11.1.4 The student may be accompanied at a hearing by a friend, a College tutor, a LUSU representative or a member of the Student Support staff.

11.1.5 Both the investigator and the student will enter the room in which the summary disposal hearing is to be held and leave it at the same time.

11.1.6 At the start of the hearing the student should be asked by the Dean whether or not he or she admits the alleged breach.

11.1.7 The Dean should keep a note of his or her reasons for the finding and penalty, and give those reasons to the student, in writing only, within ten days of the hearing.

11.1.8 If the student does not admit the alleged breach the person who has investigated it will outline why the student is suspected of it.

11.1.9 The student will be invited to question the investigator.

11.1.10 The student will then be invited to say why he or she does not agree with the investigator who has alleged a particular breach of the Rules.

11.1.11 The investigator may question the student.

11.1.12 The student should have the final say before a decision is made by the Dean.

11.1.13 The Dean will make a decision on whether the student has broken the relevant Rule.

11.1.14 The Dean may invite the investigator or the student to raise any issue as to the appropriate penalty.

11.1.15 The Dean will determine the appropriate penalty.

11.1.16 The Dean will inform the student that he or she may appeal the decision on the finding or on the penalty imposed in accordance with the University Rules.

11.1.17 The Dean should keep a note of his or her reasons for the finding and penalty, and give the reasons orally to the student, if requested. Reasons will be provided in writing only if the student wishes to appeal.
11.2 Procedure for Tribunal Hearings

11.2.1 The Tribunal, acting within the normal principles of natural justice, shall determine its own procedures, within the detailed procedures set out in the following framework.

(a) The Dean or Deputy Dean shall notify the Clerk in writing of the identity and location of the student, the nature of the alleged breach of the University Rules to be considered, the means that have been taken so far to decide the matter, and the reasons why the hearing of the Tribunal is required, together with supporting documents as appropriate.

(b) The Clerk or Deputy Clerk, acting with the Chairman or alternate, shall set up a meeting of the Tribunal as soon as possible but no later than twenty-eight days after receipt of the appropriate paper in term-time, and no later than forty-two days in vacation. The expenses of student members, the student appearing before the Tribunal and witnesses shall be reimbursed if a hearing takes place outside the stated term-time dates of the University.

(c) The meeting of the Tribunal shall be suspended or terminated by the Clerk should the student’s case be brought to a Court of Law within the periods specified in (b).

(d) As early as possible during twenty-eight days or less the Clerk or Deputy Clerk shall inform the student in writing:

(i) that he or she is to be called to a hearing and the nature of the alleged breach of the University Rules;
(ii) that he or she may bring with him or her a friend (as set out in rule 8.1) to support him or her;
(iii) that he or she may either submit information in writing or present it verbally at the hearing, or both;
(iv) that he or she may call witnesses, whose identity should, as far as possible be notified to the Clerk prior to the hearing.

(e) When the date of the hearing has been arranged, the Clerk or Deputy Clerk shall by no later than seven days in advance of the hearing despatch a notification to the members of the Tribunal of the date, time and place, and a notification to the University Dean and the student(s) of the date, time and place, of the identity of the members, and the deadline by which information (if any), is to be submitted in writing (the date to be no later than three days in advance of the date of the hearing).

(f) The University may, if the gravity or complexity of the case requires this, appoint legal representatives to advise the Tribunal, and may further agree, at the request of the University Dean, to appoint legal representatives to support the presentation of the case. In either of these circumstances the student(s) shall be informed in advance that such action has been taken, with appropriate details. In this case only, the University may consider a request by the student concerned for a contribution towards his or her legal expenses.

The student may in any case appoint legal representatives at his or her own expense, provided that he or she informs the Clerk in writing that he or she has done so, with appropriate details.
If any of the above legal representation has been appointed, the timing of the hearing may be varied by agreement of the Chairman to take account of their availability.

(g) Both the University Dean and the student(s) may call witnesses if their evidence is material to the case in hand. The University Dean should ensure that their names and addresses are submitted in advance to the Clerk of the Tribunal. The Chairman may exercise discretion about the number of witnesses either side can call, subject to a statement being made at the beginning of the hearing about how this discretion had been exercised.

(h) Wherever possible, the business of the Tribunal shall be transacted in a single hearing. The members of the Tribunal may however call an adjournment, either at the members’ instigation or at the request of either the University Dean or the student(s). The report of the Tribunal’s proceedings (see below) shall include an account of why and on what terms such an adjournment was called.

The Chairman shall forthwith declare to all parties that an adjournment has been called, giving reasons and stating the period. The Clerk shall then arrange a further hearing, once again notifying all parties as detailed in paragraph (e).

(i) At the hearing of the Tribunal the Chairman shall read out the allegation against the student made by the University Dean and the University Dean or Deputy Dean shall lay out the evidence. The student may question the Dean or any of the witnesses called by the Dean. The student shall present his or her evidence. The Dean may question the student. The Tribunal shall decide at its discretion if evidence presented by either side is admissible. Members of the Tribunal may question both the University Dean and the student. Both the Dean and the student shall then be invited to make a final statement.

(j) The University Dean or Deputy Dean, the student and his or her friend (as described in rule 8.1 above), along with any legal advisers present shall then withdraw. The Clerk of the Tribunal shall also withdraw.

(k) The Tribunal, acting by itself, shall discuss the evidence before it and decide:

(i) that there is no case to answer;
(ii) that the student has not committed a breach of the University Rules as alleged;
(iii) that the student has committed a breach, in whole or in part, of the University Rules alleged against him or her;
(v) in the case of (iii) what the penalty should be, which shall be proportionate to the breach of discipline committed but before doing so shall permit the student, before the re-convened Tribunal, to explain any mitigating circumstances.

(l) The Tribunal shall reconvene with its members, the Clerk, the University Dean or Deputy Dean, the student and friend, and any legal representatives and the chairman shall:

(i) announce the findings of the Tribunal; and
(ii) pronounce the penalty, if applicable.
In the case of several students, all of whom are alleged to have breached one or more of the University Rules on the same occasion, they shall normally be heard together.

(n) The Chairman shall supply a copy of the decision and the reasons for it to the Clerk. The Clerk shall keep a written summary of the proceedings and shall supply a copy of the agreed decisions (and where rule 9.7(k)(ii) applies, the reasons) to all those present and other relevant University officers, within 7 days of the date of the hearing.

11.3. This Ordinance was approved by Council on 5 October 2007, with the concurrence of Senate at its meeting on 23 May 2007 and took effect immediately.

Ordinance 15:

Redundancy

Preamble: In accordance with paragraphs 2 and 3 of Statute 20, the Council hereby ordains:

15.1 This Ordinance applies to dismissals ‘by reason of redundancy’ as defined in section 139 of the Employment Right Act 1996 (as may be amended from time to time).

15.2 A formal selection process will be undertaken where there is a demonstrated reduction in the need for employees to carry out work of a particular kind, a number of individuals are employed in that area of work and individuals identified as potentially at risk of redundancy cannot be clearly identified by the specialist nature of the work.
15.3 Where there is a pool, selection criteria will seek to identify those individuals in the pool with the knowledge, skills and qualifications to meet the present and anticipated needs of the University. The criteria for selection will be made available to all those identified as being in the pool.

15.4 The University will undertake collective consultation with any relevant recognised trade union(s) or elected representatives where there is a risk of redundancy and it is required to do so in accordance with its obligations under section 188 of the Trade Union and Labour Relations (Consolidation) Act 1992 or any equivalent statutory provision in place from time to time.

15.5 Where an individual is at risk of redundancy he or she will have at least one consultation meeting to discuss the reasons for the redundancy situation arising, selection criteria (where appropriate), redeployment opportunities and other relevant information.

15.6 The individual will have the right to be represented at any meeting under this Ordinance by a trade union representative or work colleague.

15.7 If the employee wishes to appeal against the decision to dismiss him/her on grounds of redundancy, he/she must give written notice of their appeal to the Director of Human Resources setting out the grounds on which the appeal is based, within a specified number of working days (as set out in the procedure) from the date of the letter notifying them of the decision and setting out why he/she thinks the decision is wrong.

15.8 The Director of Human Resources and Organisational Development will determine who is to hear the appeal.

15.9 An appeal meeting will take place at which the employee will have the opportunity to explain his/her grounds of appeal.

15.10 The outcome of the appeal will be confirmed in writing, giving reasons, within a specified number of working days of the appeal hearing (as set out in the procedure). The appeal decision will be final and there will be no further right of appeal.

15.11 The University’s redundancy procedure is subject to discussion with the recognised campus trade unions and will be available on the Human Resources website.

Ordinance 16: Dismissals

Preamble: The Council hereby ordains the principles which will apply in circumstances which might lead to the dismissal of an employee, in accordance with paragraphs 2 and 3 of Statute 20.

16.1 This Ordinance covers dismissals for reasons to do with discipline, capability, contravention of statutory enactment or some other substantial grounds. The aim is to handle cases promptly and fairly.

16.2 Where circumstances require the University to consider whether there are grounds which may give rise to the potential termination of an employee’s employment under clause 1 above, the employee will be invited to attend a hearing. The employee will have the right to be accompanied at the meeting by a colleague or trade union representative.

16.3 The employee will be notified of the decision arising from the hearing and the reasons for it, and of the right to appeal.
If the employee wishes to appeal, he/she must give written notice of his/her appeal to the Director of Human Resources and Organisational Development within a specified number of working days of the date of the letter notifying him/her of the decision and set out why he/she thinks the decision was wrong (as set out in the procedures).

The Director of Human Resources and Organisational Development will determine who is to hear the appeal.

An employee may be accompanied to the appeal meeting by a colleague or trade union representative or a legal representative.

The outcome of the appeal will normally be confirmed in writing, giving reasons, within a specified number of working ways of the appeal hearing (as set out in the procedures).
The appeal decision will be final and there will be no further right of appeal.

The procedures in connection with the dismissal of staff will be the subject of discussions with the recognised campus trade unions and will be available on the Human Resources website.

Ordinance 17:
Provisions to deprive persons of degrees, diplomas, certificates and other academic distinctions

This Ordinance refers to the power granted by the Charter of the University, Article 4(h) 'on what the Council and the Senate of the University shall deem to be good cause, to 'deprive persons of any Degrees, Diplomas, Certificates or other academic distinctions granted to them by the University.'

17.1 Definitions

'Academic distinctions' includes an honorary degree, diploma, certificate, fellowship or emeritus status granted to an individual by the University of Lancaster.

'Associated institution’ means, for the purposes of this Ordinance, any educational institution within the United Kingdom or elsewhere, the students of which are eligible jointly or severally for the grant of a degree, diploma, certificate of the University of Lancaster.

'Good cause' includes an intentional deception practised on the University of Lancaster as the degree awarding body, the nature of which is of such significance that it outweighs any other cause (or causes) for the grant of the degree, diploma, certificate or other academic distinction granted to the individual by the University. The deception involved may be practised by the individual award holder or by someone on his or her behalf and with his or her full knowledge. In respect of a person granted an ‘academic distinction’ by the University, an award based on that person’s reputation, ‘good cause’ could also include a finding that the individual has been adjudged by any court or other appropriate body to have conducted himself or herself in a manner which is inconsistent with the continued status of an individual holding an academic distinction of the University of Lancaster.

17.2 Procedure to be followed should the University wish to invoke Charter Article 4(h)

17.2.1 Where a decision is made under any of paragraphs 17.2.2, 17.2.3, 17.2.6, 17.2.7, 17.2.8, or should the respective decisions of the Senate and the Council be not to deprive the individual at risk (“the individual at risk”) of any degree, diploma, certificate or other academic distinction, the identity of the individual at risk shall be kept confidential to the University.
17.2.2 Should a prima facie case be made out to the satisfaction of the relevant officer determined by Senate that Charter Article 4(h) should be invoked he or she should appoint a committee of three senior academic members of the University to act as an investigating committee.

17.2.3 The investigating committee shall have the power to call for any relevant document prepared by any employee of the University of Lancaster or by any employee of an associated institution. The investigating committee may decide that there is a prima facie case to be answered by an individual who had been awarded a degree, diploma, certificate or other academic distinction by the University in which case it will notify the individual at risk and proceed to carry out the procedure set out below. The investigating committee may decide that there is no prima facie case to be made out against the individual at risk and any further proceedings under Charter Article 4(h) will be discontinued.

17.2.4 Should the investigating committee decide that there is a prima facie case to be answered by the individual at risk in accordance with paragraph 17.2.2 above it shall make available to him or her all evidence in documentary form at least 30 days prior to an oral hearing. It will also invite the individual at risk to supply to it any evidence in documentary form within seven days prior to the hearing date.

17.2.5 The investigating committee will invite the individual at risk to an oral hearing at which he or she may be represented, by a legal practitioner or otherwise. The individual at risk will be given the opportunity to challenge all evidence, whether in the form of documentary or oral evidence presented to the investigating committee.

17.2.6 At the conclusion of the oral hearing the investigating committee will announce its decision or recommendation or it will inform the individual at risk that its decision or recommendation, including its reasons, will be notified to him or her within 30 days from the date of the oral hearing.

17.2.7 A decision is one whereby the investigating committee decides that no further action should be taken to invoke Charter Article 4(h). In this case all proceedings under Charter Article 4(h) will be discontinued. Any recommendation that Charter Article 4(h) be invoked is made to the Council and the Senate.

17.2.8 The individual at risk may appeal, on any ground within 14 days of receiving a recommendation from the investigation committee referred to in paragraph 17.2.5 to a Tribunal. The membership of this Tribunal will be appointed by the Chief Administrative Officer and Secretary or nominee and will consist of persons independent of the University. It shall comprise a chairman, who will be a barrister or solicitor of at least ten years standing and two other members. Within the principles of natural justice this Tribunal will follow its own procedure and make its decision or recommendation in like form as set out in paragraphs 17.2.5 and 17.2.6 above. For the avoidance of doubt the individual at risk may be represented by a legal practitioner or otherwise.

1 We believe this is highly desirable since the individual at risk stands to lose a valuable possession.

2 The appeal body should 'outrank' the investigating committee. The advantage of an experienced lawyer as the chair is that he or she can conduct proceedings in a form consistent with broadly defined judicial process. All members of the Tribunal, being external to the University, will not be involved with the decision to be made by the Senate and the Council.
17.2.9 A recommendation of the investigating committee, against which no appeal has been lodged, or a recommendation of the Tribunal referred to in paragraph 17.2.7, will be made initially to the Senate and subsequently, if the Senate votes by a majority decision to deprive a person of a degree, diploma, certificate or other academic distinction, to the Council. For a person to be deprived of a degree, diploma, certificate or academic distinction the Council, by a majority vote, must also decide to do so.

17.2.10 Members of the investigating committee or of the Tribunal, referred to in paragraph 17.2.7, may attend the Senate or the Council meeting at which a recommendation from either body is to be voted upon. Members of either body may seek clarification of any matter from a member of the investigating committee (where no appeal has been brought against their recommendation) or from the Tribunal. Immediately prior to the decision of each body being made all members of the investigating committee or of the Tribunal present and the person who appointed the investigating committee or Tribunal shall withdraw.

17.2.11 The individual at risk may attend the meeting of the Senate and, if the Council is also called upon to make a decision under Charter Article 4(h), that meeting also. He or she may be represented by a legal practitioner or otherwise. Before the Senate and the Council no new evidence may be adduced, nor any new ground raised on behalf of the individual at risk. Immediately prior to the decision of each body being made the individual at risk and any representative will be required to withdraw.

17.2.12 The University will not be responsible for any costs incurred by the individual at risk in respect of any representations made on his or her behalf or for any other reason.

17.2.13 Should the respective decisions of the Senate and the Council be to deprive the individual at risk of any degree, diploma, certificate or other academic distinction granted to him or her by the University, the individual at risk may be required to reimburse the University in respect of the reasonable costs it has incurred in establishing the Tribunal referred to in paragraph 17.2.7 above.

3 We have thought about recommending a committee of the Senate and a committee of Council (as permitted by Ordinance 6) but decided (at this stage) against it. Charter Article 4(h) refers specifically to the Senate and the Council, to deprive a person of an award carries with it very significant responsibility, which is better shown by a full meeting of both bodies. Should this situation arise it could form the final item of business on the agenda or a special meeting of each body could be convened. We see no reason why student members of the Senate or Council should be required to leave on such an occasion, since the individual at risk will, by the very nature of the exercise, no longer be a student. We think that all those in attendance at each meeting should, however, withdraw.

4 This is to ensure that the decision is that of the Senate and the Council. The decision-makers will have the relevant recommendation, with its reasons, before them but they must be able to seek clarification on fact.

5 The members of the investigating committee or the Tribunal must withdraw since the decision is that of the Senate and the Council in turn. The University Secretary should withdraw because he or she will have appointed the Tribunal.

6 This is designed to ensure that should any new point adverse to the individual at risk be made at a meeting of the Senate or the Council the individual at risk will have an opportunity to challenge it before the decision is made.

7 This is designed to act as a factor to be taken into account by the individual at risk where any appeal to the Tribunal could only be considered to be frivolous. The University could decide not to seek reimbursement of its costs should, in any particular case, it decides not to do so.
