

LANCASTER UNIVERSITY
Regional Heritage Centre
Department of History

Saturday 1 November 2014

Monastic Heritage in North West England

Venue: Biology Lecture Theatre (marked 43a on new campus maps), Lancaster University
(nearest parking areas: South West Drive; Farrer Avenue. Due to ongoing building work on campus there are some access issues – if you require Blue Badge parking please contact us for up-to-date information.)

9.30 a.m. Assemble Biology Lecture Theatre (tea/coffee is not served at beginning of the day – but is available to purchase on campus*)

10.00 - 11.00 Medieval Monastic Worlds from Near East to North West –
Professor Andrew Jotischky, Department of History, Lancaster University

11.00-11.30 Coffee/tea & biscuits

11.30 – 12.20 Furness Abbey and daughter houses: Irish Sea relations in the twelfth and thirteenth centuries - Dr Fiona Edmonds, Department of Anglo-Saxon, Norse, and Celtic, University of Cambridge

12.20-12.45 Conservation work at Furness Abbey and future plans –
Michael Callaghan, English Heritage

12.45 - 1.45 Lunch

1.45 - 2.40 Uniting World and Cloister: Hospitality in a Medieval Cistercian Abbey –
Richard Thomason, PhD candidate, Institute for Medieval Studies, University of Leeds

2.40 - 3.10 Tea/coffee & biscuits

3.10 - 4.00 Norton Priory: Monastery to Museum –
Lynn Smith, Senior Keeper, Norton Priory

Fee for this event: £25 (£23 for Friends and Patrons of the Centre) including coffee/tea & biscuits

Lunch: *Sandwiches/coffee/tea can be bought on the University campus (either at SPAR supermarket or Gregg's). Hot and cold snacks and drinks are also available at Café Republic – or you are welcome to bring your own lunch.

Parking: On Saturdays free parking is available on campus.

Our events are extremely popular and many book up within the first few weeks. We strongly recommend that you book early to avoid disappointment. If you do have to cancel your booking please give us four full working days' notice and we will happily send you a refund. [Please note that these refunds can now only be made via electronic means because the University no longer issues cheques. Should you require a refund we will need a note of your account name, account number and sort-code. Payments originally made by credit card can be reimbursed via the same card details.]

Please note: We do not enrol people on the day unless this has been arranged in advance.