

3rd Summer Academy of Atlantic History

Circuits of Knowledge

August 24 – 29, 2013
Warburg-Haus Hamburg

PARTICIPANTS

Katherine E. Arner (Baltimore): The Republic of Fever: Commerce, Warfare and the Making of Warm Climate Medicine in the age of Atlantic Revolutions
Email: karner1@jhmi.edu

Dr. Sarah Barber (Lancaster):
tutor/comment
Email: s.barber@lancaster.ac.uk

Ilaria Berti (Genoa): European Colonizer and Caribbean Colonized Identity and Creolization of Food Consumption Patterns in the 19th Century Global Caribbean
Email: ib.ilariaberti@gmail.com

Prof. Dr. Trevor Burnard (Melbourne): Roundtable
tutor/comment
Email: tburnard@unimelb.edu.au

Jordan Buchanan Smith (Washington/D.C.): Liquor and Knowledge Transfer in Europe, Africa, and the Americas
Email: jordan.buchanan.smith@gmail.com

Prof. Dr. Nicholas Canny (Galway): Roundtable
tutor/comment
Email: nicholas.canny@nuigalway.ie

Craig Gallagher (Boston): Scottish Merchants and Knowledge in the Early Modern Atlantic World
Email: craig.gallagher@bc.edu

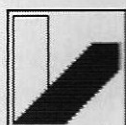

Dr. Lauric Hennenon (Versailles-St. Quentin-en-Yvelines): Knowledge, Geopolitics and the Shaping of New England
tutor/comment
Email: lauric.hennenon@gmail.com

Prof. Dr. Karen O. Kupperman (New York City): Music and Universal Language in the Early Modern Atlantic
Email: karen.kupperman@nyu.edu

Warja Kuttner (Hamburg): Trading Company Staff as Brokers of Science? Taking a Look at Pacific-Atlantic Exchanges of Knowledge in the Correspondence of VOC Surgeon Engelbert Kaempfer
Email: w_kuttner@yahoo.com

Prof. Dr. Lachenicht (Bayreuth): Merchants' Knowledge in the 17th and 18th Century Atlantic: the Example of the Huguenots
Roundtable, tutor/comment
Email: susanne.lachenicht@uni-bayreuth.de

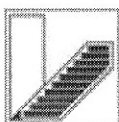

Workshop supported by:

UNIVERSITÄT BAYREUTH

Universität Hamburg
DER FORSCHUNG | DER LEHRE | DER BILDUNG

UNIVERSITÄTSVEREIN BAYREUTH e.V.

Prof. Dr. Matthias Middell (Leipzig): Roundtable
Email: middell@uni-leipzig.de

Anne Sophie Overkamp (Bayreuth): An Eldorado of the Industrious, a Zion of the Pious – the Middling Classes of Elberfeld and Barmen Around 1800 in their Global Context
Email: asoverkamp@uni-bayreuth.de

Dr. Ida Pugliese (Galway): The Asymmetric of Enlightenment Circulation of Knowledge: Atlantic Questionnaires in the Eighteenth Century
Email: ida.pugliese@eui.eu

Prof. Dr. Claudia Schnurmann (Hamburg): Knowledge and Correspondence Networks
tutor/comment
Email: claudia.schnurmann@uni-hamburg.de

Asheesh Siddique (New York City): Daring to ask: the Questionnaires and the Problem of Knowledge in the Late 18th century British Atlantic Enlightenment
Email: asheesh.siddique@gmail.com

Dr. David L. Smith (Cambridge)
tutor/comment
Email: dls10@cam.ac.uk

Prof. Dr. Owen Stanwood (Boston): tutor/comment
Email: owen.stanwood@bc.edu

Christine Urbanek (Hamburg): Knowledge Transfer: the Atlantic Correspondence Networks of George Bancroft and George Ticknor
Email: christina_urbanek@hotmail.com

Prof. Dr. Hermann Wellenreuther (Göttingen): Interdependency, Interaction and Communication as Key Terms of Atlantic History
tutor/comment
Email: hermannwellenreuther@hotmail.com

Prof. Dr. Bartolomé Yun-Casalilla (Florence): Roundtable
tutor/comment
Email: Bartolome.Yun.Casalilla@EUI.eu

Alyssa Zuercher Reichardt (New Haven): French, British, and Indigenous Imperial Communication Networks in the Contest for the Ohio Valley and North America, 1739 – 1768
Email: alyssa.reichardt@yale.edu