

PROGRAM WORKSHOP ON REFERENTIAL HIERARCHIES IN THREE-PARTICIPANT CONSTRUCTIONS
LANCASTER UNIVERSITY

Friday 20 May

- 9:00 – 9:15      Welcome
- 9:15 – 10:15      Invited speaker: Prof. Beth Levin, Stanford University
*Verb sensitivity and argument realization in three-participant constructions:
A crosslinguistic perspective*
- 10:15 – 10:45      Coffee break
- 10:45 – 11:15      Ben Ambridge, Liverpool University
Construction choice and the English dative alternation: Evidence for semantic and morpho-phonological factors
- 11:15 – 11:45      Elke Diedrichsen, Vechta University
The influence of Person Hierarchies on preferences with word order in German ditransitive constructions
- 11:45 – 12:15      Brian Nolan, Institute of Technology Blanchardstown, Dublin
Characterising the effects of the referential hierarchy on Modern Irish ditransitive constructions
- 12:15 – 13:30      Lunch
- 13:30 – 14:00      Chiyo Nishida, University of Texas, Austin,
The IO/Oblique Alternation in Spanish Dative Constructions: a corpus-study
- 14:00 – 14:30      Barbara Hentschel – University of Würzburg
Clitic doubling of indirect objects in Spanish - considering referential properties of the indirect and the direct object
- 14:30 – 15:00      Seppo Kittilä, University of Helsinki
Remarks on the coding of R arguments (Goals/Recipients) in Finnish
- 15:00 – 15:30      Susanna Virtanen, University of Helsinki
Variation in three-participant constructions in Eastern Mansi
- 15:30 – 16:00      Tea break
- 16:00 – 16:30      Thomas Wier, University of Chicago
Hierarchical alignment in Kartvelian
- 16:30 – 17:00      René Lacroix, Max Planck Institute for Evolutionary Anthropology, Leipzig
Person hierarchy and direct/inverse marking in the Laz verb 'give'
- 17:00 – 17:30      Ewa Zakrzewska, University of Amsterdam
Monotransitive and Ditransitive constructions in Boharic Coptic
- 17:30 – 18:00      Discussion time
- 19:30              Dinner in town

Saturday 21 May

- 9:00 – 10:00     Invited speaker: Dr. Andrej Malchukov, Max Planck Institute for Evolutionary Anthropology, Leipzig / Saint-Petersburg Institute for Linguistic Studies
Exploring the domain of ditransitive constructions: Issues in lexical typology
- 10:00 – 10:30     Leonid Kulikov – Leiden University
Vedic bitransitive verbs: Semantic classes and referential hierarchies
- 10:30 – 11:00     Coffee break
- 11:00 – 11:30     Marian Klamer & Antionette Schapper, Leiden University
'Give' constructions in Timor-Alor-Pantar: variation and diachronic change
- 11:30 – 12:00     Sebastian Fedden & Dunstan Brown, University of Surrey
Ditransitives in the Alor-Pantar languages
- 12:00 – 12:30     Stefan Schnell, Kiel University
Animate pronoun attraction on Vera'a three-participant constructions
- 12:30 – 13:30     Lunch
- 13:30 – 14:00     Dmitry Gerasimov, Saint-Petersburg Institute for Linguistic Studies
Ditransitive constructions in Paraguayan Guaraní: An uncommon case of alignment mismatch
- 14:00 – 14:30     Françoise Rose, Dynamique Du Langage (CNRS/Université Lyon)
Competition for the object status: the effects of referential factors in derived and non-derived ditransitive verbs in Mojeño Trinitario
- 14:30 – 15:00     Katharina Haude, CNRS, SeDyL/CELIA and University of Cologne
The expression of three-participant events in Movima
- 15:00 – 15:30     Lena Russell, Inge Genee (University of Lethbridge), and Fernando Zúñiga (University of Zurich)
Referential hierarchies in three-participant constructions in Blackfoot: The effects of animacy, topicality, person, and specificity
- 15:30 – 16:00     Tea break
- 16:00 – 16:30     Diana Schackow, University of Leipzig
Theme-Goal inversion in Yakkha
- 16:30 – 17:00     Ergin Öpengin, University of Sorbonne-Nouvelle, Paris / University of Bamberg
Person, role, and other factors: On clitic/affix interaction in Sorani argument cross-referencing
- 17:00 – 18:00     Closing discussion
