

Eugenia Afinoguénova is the author of El idiota superviviente: Artes y letras españolas frente a la 'muerte del hombre', 1969-1980 (Madrid: Libertarias, 2003) and the co-editor of Spain is (Still) Different: Tourism and Discourse in Spanish Identity. (Lanham, Md.: Lexington Books, 2008). Her current research project is concerned with the social history of the Prado Museum.