

Margueritte Murphy is Interim Associate Provost at Hobart and William Smith Colleges, on leave from her position as Associate Professor of English at Bentley College. She is author of A Tradition of Subversion: The Prose Poem in English from Wilde to Ashbery (1992) and numerous articles and book chapters, and co-editor with Samir Dayal of Global Babel: Questions of Discourse and Communication in a Time of Globalization (2007).