1930s FILMS

Dear Annette

When I saw your list of the most popular 1930s films it triggered some really random thoughts about ones that I had seen. So here they are. The only possible merit in them is that they represent genuine 1st-hand memories of one who was there. Probably of no use to you. But if any of it leads you to any new line of thought, I might be able to expand on it.

Jeanne almost certainly saw a lot more films than I did.

Nice to know you are progressing with the project and finding surprises.

Love from

David
