

Behavioral and Experimental Economics Workshop
Organized by the Lancaster Experimental Economics Laboratory (LExEL)
9th-10th September 2019

9 th September 2019 Lecture Theaters 1 and 3 in LUMS
18:00 – 18:15	Vice Chancellor's Welcome
18:15 – 19:15	P.W.S. Andrews and Elizabeth Brunner Inaugural Nobel Lecture by Professor Alvin Roth Controversial Markets
19:15 – 20:00	Refreshments

10 th September 2019 Lecture Theater 2 in LUMS
11:00 – 11:05	Dean's Welcome
11:05 – 11:15	Opening remarks by Al Roth and Eyal Winter
11:15 – 11:55	Simon Gaechter University of Nottingham	Framing Effects, (Mis)Perceptions, and the Elicitation of Preferences in Social Dilemmas (with Felix Koelle and Simone Quercia)
11:55 – 12:35	Graham Loomes University of Warwick	The Challenges Involved in Building Probabilistic Decision Models
12:35 – 13:45	Lunch break
13:45 – 14:25	Friederike Mengel University of Essex	Exposure to Inequality, Personal Relative Position and Belief in Meritocracy
14:25 – 15:05	Eyal Winter Lancaster University	Rule Rationality in the Lab

Financial support from the Department of Economics of Lancaster University is greatly appreciated.