

Trans-Scriptions

Transcultural Writing Open Day

Lancaster University, Institute for Advanced Studies

May 31st from 1.00pm

An opportunity to see a range of material from Lancaster University research projects including Narrating the North, Crossing Borders, Moving Manchester and Radiophonics

photography artwork eLearning information displays Ugandan radio broadcasts interactive African internet fora Moving Manchester eCatalogue

Film Screenings
Tsotsi - contemporary S. Africa (1.15 pm)
A Taste of Honey- 1960's Manchester classic (3.00pm)

Launch of Centre for Transcultural Writing and Research

Reading by poet, novelist and critic
David Dabydeen

This is a free event and an opportunity to hear one of the UK's leading writers read and discuss his work.

5.30pm
Drinks in IAS Foyer

5.50pm
CTWR launch

6.00pm
David Dabydeen reading contact Dr. Lee Horsley at l.horsley@lancaster.ac.uk for details